

DR. SARAH MADDOCKS Psychologist

PRACTICE UPDATE!!

Dear Clients,

I am writing to let you know of a few changes to my practice:
Firstly, I have a new telephone number and a new mailing address.

New telephone number: 647-233-2961

New mailing address: PO BOX 26025
Broadway PO
Toronto M4P 0A8

I also have to let you know that my office building at 14 Prince Arthur Avenue has been scheduled for redevelopment. Very sadly my colleague and I have to vacate our offices at the end of this month.

My plans are to continue to meet with you as we have been doing since March either by video or telephone.

Given the ongoing Covid 19 situation it seems very likely that I will be continuing to practice virtual psychotherapy well into the new year.

When the pandemic situation changes and we can safely return to working from an office I will find a beautiful space to resume in person sessions. I certainly expect that a new office will be in a central location that will be accessible by subway and for parking.

Please rest assured that you will be the first to know of any news I have about my practice as we all move ahead in this extraordinary period of time.

With my warmest regards,

Sarah M.
